NETHERLAND'S ENVOY TO MOSCOW

LONDON, Sept. 19:—The Moscow Radio to-day stated that Baron van Bregual Douglas, the new Netherland's Ambassador to the U.S.S.R. presented his credentials to President Kalinin yesterday.—Reuter.

Reds Take "Gate To Smolensk"

The Moscow Radio to-night broadcast an "Order of the Day" from Marshal Stalin saying: "A special order of the day from the Supreme Commander-in-Chief addressed to Generals Eremenko and Sokolovsky: Our troops on the Kalinin front after four days of fierce fighting broke through the powerfully fortified German line and after capturing a number of strongly fortified strongpoints stormed and captured the most important German centre of resistance on the road to Smolensk—the town of Dukhovshchina. Our troops on the western front overcame the enemy resistance and after fierce fighting captured the important German centre of resistance and railway junction of Yartsevo. Thus the strong German centre of resistance which has been called the gate to Smolensk has now been broken open.—

ON NAPOLEON'S ROAD

Yartsevo on the main Rzhev-Smolensk road, is about 40 miles northeast of Smolensk. Dukhovshchina is about 10 miles north-west of Yartsevo and about 40 miles north-west of Smolensk. This Soviet thrust along Napoleon's retreat road to Smolensk is the more northerly of the two great Soviet drives threatening Hitler's main base behind the central front. The other Red Army push is from the direction of Yelnya south-east of Smolensk.—Reuter.

TOKIO OUTLINES ALLIED EAST ASIA CAMPAIGN!

U. S. ATTACK ON JAP-HELD ISLANDS IN CENTRAL PACIFIC

LONDON, Sept. 19.

The Tokio radio stated to-day: "It is clear that the enemy is attempting to make a thorough and well planned attack upon the Japanese mainland by first taking control of strategic positions in the East Pacific.

A direct attack on the Japanese mainland by the use of naval task force and at the same time an offensive in the area east of India are presumed to be the enemy's two main objectives. Regarding offensive in the area east of India, the enemy will attempt to make a direct attack from the Bengal Bay area on the Indian Ocean as far as the southern regions. For this offensive the British Indian Ocean fleet will provide the main strength. It is surmised that the American Fleet will be used in a direct frontal attack which will be the main battlefront against the Japanese forces on the mainland.

"The real phase of the great East Asian war is now beginning."

ALLIED PREPARATION FOR BURMA CAMPAIGN

The German News Agency quotes the Tokyo newspaper "Asahi Shimbun" as saying that the Japanese expect an early Allied offensive against Burma from India. There is every indication that the enemy is making his preparations for such an offensive," adds the newspaper. "In the coastal areas north-east of the Gulf of Bengal there has been increasing reconnaissance activity by enemy warships." The Agency adds that the rainy season in Burma is expected to be over towards the end of September or about a month earlier than usual.—Reuter.

HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—A 'communique' issued by Admiral Nimitz says: "September 19: Strong Pacific Ocean area forces to-day conducted a heavy raid on Japanese bases at Tarawa Island in the northern Gilbert Group and on Nauru Island, westward of the Gilbert Group. These operations were carried out according to plan during the preceding night and for a good portion of the day of September 19 (East Longitude Time). Details of the operations are not immediately available."

Nauru or Pleasant Island is about 600 miles north-east of the Solomons. Tarawa Island is further 360 miles east of Nauru.—Reuter.

Jap Bait To China

"New York Times" Pays Tribute To Stand Of Chungking

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.

The "New York Times" commenting on the Chinese Foreign Minister's statement that Japan is making peace overtures to China says: "Indeed Tokyo Government has been bombarding Chungking with peace offers the first arriving shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbour.

Since then the Japanese have raised the bait with each successive offer until now they "promise" to vacate all Chinese territory except Formosa and Manchukuo.

"The basic pattern of each offer is the same. For China the price of of peace would be more war on Japan's side. She would have to pledge herself to join Japan in a "racial" war against 'white' nations with, of course the shining but temporary exception of Germany So Japan which before betraying us at Pearl Harbour assiduously besought the United States to betray China is now finding herself outmatched in the long test of world struggle and begs China to betray her Allies China is not a turncoat.

"Her answer to such offers is that she will accept no terms from Japan except unconditional surrender.

"Thus far she is the only nation to receive peace proposals. But she will not be the last. As the war goes on Japan is certain to try to copy Hitler's strategy and his wiles and diplomacy in an effort to divide the nations which are bent on her destruction as a military power."

A sum of Rs. 50 each will be paid to 500 families as a lump contribution. I hope other donors may come forward and supplement the sum so that, if necessary, we may increase the number of families. Government also should meanwhile increase the allowances so that the families may not be stranded during the detention of their earning members without trial by Government.

A Committee is being appointed to scrutinise all requests for help coming from the families of security prisoners and the amount will be sent to each approved family by money order.

RAPID ADVANCE OF 8th & 5th ARMIES

Sardinia Evacuated By Germans?

BADOGLIO IN ALLIED-HELD ITALIAN TERRITORY

LONDON, Sept. 19: To-day's North African 'communique' as given by the Algiers United Nations Radio announces Battipaglia is in our hands.

The Germans have almost entirely evacuated Sardinia after being attacked by two Italian divisions.

German forces in Sardinia withdrew to Corsica after being attacked by Italians.

It is officially announced the Marshal Badoglio is now safe within Allied lines.

Allied Headquarters, North Africa: It is officially announced that Marshal Badoglio is now in Allied-held Italian territory.

(Battipaglia is the key railway junction astride the coastal lines to the toe of Italy and the Railway running across the arch of the Italian foot. It is about 14 miles south-east of Salerno and some eight miles inland from invasion beaches.)

To-day's North African Allied Communique states: "In Aranto area there is nothing to report. The Eighth Army continues to advance at a rapid rate. The 5th Army continues to push forward. ALTAVILLA AND BATTIPAGLIA ARE IN OUR HANDS. Reinforcements are being brought in according to plan."

REINFORCEMENTS FOR ALLIES

To-day's North African Allied Naval 'communicue' states: "An increasing number of troops with their supplies and vehicles are being unloaded by Allied navies over the beaches in Salerno area. During the assault on September 17 good results were obtained from supporting bombardment carried out by warships of the United States Navy."

ALLIES RAID ITALIAN TOWNS

To-day's North African Allied Air 'communique' says: "Yesterday North-West African Air Forces attacked enemy airfields in strength. Unescorted heavy and medium bombers attacked Viterbo, Parattica di Mare, and Campiano. Long-range fighters made low-level attacks on landing grounds at Foggia. Many aircraft were destroyed on the ground and many more were damaged. Of three enemy aircraft encountered over Campiano, one was destroyed.

Heavy bombers also attacked roads in Salerno area. Last night the airfield at Viterbo was attacked by night bombers. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed in Naples-Salerno area on the night of September 17/18.

Nine of our aircraft are missing from these operations.

Italian Soldiers Trek To Allies

From Reuter's Special Correspondent with the Fifth Army in Italy:—On Friday I talked to Italian soldiers who escaped from Rome after capitulation and travelled 170 miles through German-held territory to join Allied armies

Stragglers from the Italian Army and refugees from places as far away as Bologna and Trieste are coming in by the thousand to be sorted by a single British corporal. One young Italian soldier told me: "Rome is longing to see the Allies march in. My company had no chance to fight. The Germans took away our arms, uniforms and money and ordered us to get out. I took a train as far as Benevento and walked the rest of the way to find the Allied army."

PESCARA & FOGGIA RAIDED

CAIRO:—To-day's Middle East Air Communique says: "Liberators' of the Ninth United States Air Force bombed railway yards at Pescara in Eastern Italy. Many bursts were observed and an engine shed damaged in previous raids was again hit, fires being started.

R.A.F. 'Liberators' and 'Halifaxes' attacked Foggia in Eastern Italy during the night of September 17/18 and damaged warehouses in the railway yards.

Islands Of Ischia And Procida Surrender

From Reuter's special correspondent, Allied Headquarters, North Africa: General Mark Clark's forces on South of Salerno front are pressing the Germans back in what appears to be the biggest Allied assault in this sector.

The action is being fought out in the area east of Calore river. The high ground taken here is of considerable tactical importance. All German positions in the hills are being wiped out either by Allied artillery or by big guns of Allied warships lying in the Bay.

Along the beachheads of the Fifth Army is officially stated to hold the initiative and reinforcements continue to arrive. One report says, German commander Field-Marshal Albert Kesselring is using at least six divisions.

The Island of Ischia has surrendered to Allied naval forces and an Allied garrison is being installed there, it is officially stated. Ischia is three times as large as Procida which has also surrendered. The possession of these islands gives the Allies a commanding position in the gulf of Naples.

NO WHOLESALE WITHDRAWAL

From Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Sept. 19: Frontline messages to-night say that Field-Marshal Kesselring in the south is falling back under Allied pressure and using the northern edge of the Salerno bridgehead as a hinge. So far there are no signs of a wholesale German withdrawal.

ELECT THEM

Nine members of the Congress Municipal Party of Bombay having ceased to be members of the Municipal Corporation on account of their continued imprisonment, by-elections to fill the vacancies are announced to be held on 5th October. In all probability the Congress Party will renominate as candidates the very persons who are now held prisoners. An important constitutional principle is involved herein. If other persons are nominated, it amounts to meek submission to Government's unconstitutional device to get out of the way without even a trial inconvenient leaders at a critical juncture. This device must be resisted in all legitimate ways. Else our extremely limited constitutional liberties even in the sphere of local self-government will be at the mercy of a constitutionally irresponsible Government. And one method of resisting that inroad on liberty is to stand by the very representatives incarcerated by Government and re-adopt them as candidates in spite of their imprisonment or rather because of, their imprisonment without a trial. Another reason why we should do so is that as Government have brought gross charges on the leaders of the Congress without giving them an opportunity to refute them either in a court of Law or otherwise, we should show that we refuse to believe in such charges. We expect, therefore, that in most, if not all, cases the old Congress representatives will be renominated as candidates by the Congress Party and that there will be no legal difficulty in the way.

For the very reasons set forth above it is desirable that these candidates should be returned unopposed. But for various reasons, self-regarding or other, the elections may be contested. In that case the Congress Party ought to bestir itself and carry on election propaganda even more intensively than if the candidates were available to address their constituents direct. It should not relax its efforts on the plea that Bombay voters have always been and will continue to be loyal to the Congress. The voters have been so and will be so. But the Congress Municipal Party has got to give the lead and demonstrate as an object lesson its own loyalty to Congress and its principles. There is sure to be a good deal of anti-Congress propaganda of the kind carried on by Government themselves. That should not go unchallenged. It must be promptly met with counter-propaganda. Often enough election successes are determined by efficiency of propaganda. Secondly elections provide splendid opportunity for the education of the voter in the various constitutional and other issues involved in them. That opportunity must be seized and made most of by those who seek to educate and serve the people. The Municipal Party and other Congress workers should make it a point of honour to make up, as far as possible, for the absence of their leaders in jail.

Release Women Detenues

Several women detenues in Bombay and other provinces are said to be in indifferent health, presumably on account of privations in general and defective food in particular. Presumably, too, they have been in prison long enough to satisfy those authorities who insisted on deterrent punishment even for unproved offences. If so, they may well be released now without any further delay. Most women workers have been engrossed almost exclusively in constructive work. They were probably detained because they were known to be generally loyal to Gandhiji and he was suspected. Some of them have since been released permanently and some for short periods on parole on grounds of health or other emergencies. This does not seem to have led to anything calculated to disturb the nerves of the Law and Order authorities. Releases of men and women detenus are being made on a fairly wide scale all over the country. It will be bare justice to release women detenues at once. If at all there is any evidence to justify further detention of any women, it should be tested in a Court of Law or any other suitable tribunal.

Triumphant Progress

The succession of Russian victories continues uninterrupted. So rapid is the progress that one might almost say it was difficult to keep pace with it. The Red Army is within a few days—of Russian speed—of Kiev and Zhaporozhe, in other words, within a few days of clearing the entire Ukraine even if it may not succeed in cutting the German armies into two or even three. Further north it is very soon going to threaten Smolensk itself. In the south it has retaken Novorossisk, the important Black Sea base in the Kuban. It is clear that the Germans must soon "evacuate" the Taman peninsula which is separated from the Crimea by the narrow Kerch Strait. That raises the interesting question of German plans about the Crimea now seriously threatened from the east and the north. Anyhow, there can be no doubt now that German retreat cannot halt on this side of the Dnieper. The important question is: Will Hitler be able to consolidate the "Dnieper Line" for the long months of non-campaigning weather which are rapidly approaching?

FRANKLY SPEAKING

MacArthur's Success

We hold, and even the Anglo-American allies do not actually deny, that the South-West Pacific is a far less important theatre of operations against Japan than the "south-east Asia" front which has yet to be opened. For a decisive offensive, the former is at best a diversionary front. Subject to this fundamental fact, General MacArthur certainly deserves congratulations on his recent victories, especially the conquest of Lae. They are quite remarkable and useful for a number of reasons. The capture of Lae is a tribute to his clever generalship. More than that it opens the way to the capture of the other bases in New Guinea and then to a double—but island-hopping—drive eastwards and northwards. But even more important, the capture of Lae and Salamaua suggests a significant weakening of the Japs even as did the voluntary evacuation of, say, Kiska. But one thing is still noteworthy. Even in their weakness the Japs fight hard and long and do not surrender.

Offensive Resumed

The last week will be remembered in the Anglo-American fight against Hitler—and, let us add, against the ex-Roman "conqueror," now the Fuehrer's caged cuckatoo—as a week which, at an important stage in the war, began rather seriously for the Allies but ended well. The Fifth Army has successfully repelled German onslaughts and the Eighth Army has duly linked up with it. The offensive of this Allied Army Group is by now on and the Germans have no alternative but to roll back northward along the entire west-east Italian front. We believe, as we have said that Kesselring will continue to withdraw from southern and, if Allied pressure is sufficiently strong, from central Italy till he joins Rommel in the north. The immediate prospects do not threaten any considerable difficulties, but they do not also promise the Allies an easy "walk over" in the south and the centre.

Air Possibilities

This is due to the fact that while Marshal Kesselring failed to conquer the Salerno beachhead he did succeed in defeating the Allied tactics of trapping and annihilating German garrisons in central and southern Italy. They have been saved and are certain to prove valuable to the Germans. But the Allies have not lost very much by the developments in the early part of the last week All strategical possibilities have been restored. And with bases in southern and central Italy in their use Allied Air forces will presently be able to bomb and blast objectives in Austria Czechoslovakia. Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria and, what is even more important Yugo-Slavia and Greece.

DESHMUKH'S CALL TO CENTRAL M.L.As

BOMBAY, Sept. 19

A suggestion that the Congress Members of the Legislature should meet at Delhi on November 7 to consider the food situation in the country and help in organising relief is made by Dr. G. V. Deshmukh, M.L.A. (Central) in a statement to the press. The following is the statement:—

With regard to the situation in Bengal, there is a great deal of panic and sentimentality.

The tragedy has continued for some time. The Provincial Government has a Member of Civil Supply, who himself or through his Government has done nothing so far except delivering pious statements. He has given no estimates of the crops, passed no measures of rationing, no measures to prevent hoarding, no measures to prevent the permanent landlords from paying their labourers in coin instead of in kind with the rise of prices in grain, and industrialists from hoarding to feed his industrial workers only and making profits. The Provincial Government has proved itself thoroughly inefficient.

What is the Central Government going to do for this national crisis? The Central Government has suddenly turned super-constitutional. The Central Government must make enquiries and use power to remedy the situation. Congress Members of the Central Assembly, who are outside must assist in the nourishment of the people from the Central Legislature.

I will, therefore, ask my Congress colleagues in the Central Legislature to meet at Delhi on the 7th November, 1943.—A.P.

(3) To the able advocates—Messrs. Munshi, Thakore and Solicitors Messrs. Lakhia and Co.

(4) And above all, to the Chief Justice, Sir John Beaumont, for his cold and clear-classic and historic Judgment in the Contempt of Court case against the "Bombay Sentinel."

(5) It is a happy vindication of British Justice—after a long lapse!

Viva, Benjamin, Viva "Sentinel"! Viva Justice Beaumont!

Congratulations To Mr. Horniman

"A Friend" writes:—

I offer my congratulations to Mr. Horniman on the splendid victory that he has won. I was fortunately present in the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, the other day, when he himself argued out his case to the great admiration of all those who happened to be present then. By winning this battle he has added one more laurel to his past glories. A great principle has been decided in his favour, and this is all due to his tenacity of purpose and doggedness. Had there been any other person in his place, he would have succumbed to the charms of the Allahabad High Court. By deciding in favour of Mr. Horniman, the Bombay High Court has once more proved that it is no respecter of persons This decision has further strengthened the confidence of the public in the impartiality and independence of the decisions of the Bombay High Court which is at present presided over by a distinguished judge of the calibre of Sir John Beaumont.

Call To Avenge Italy's Betrayal By Royalty

Mussolini's Radio Appeal To Every Italian

LONDON, September 19.

Sgr. Mussolini broadcasting last night (Saturday) over the German and German-controlled Italian radio accused King Victor Emmanuel of leading a revolt against him and demanded that he be called to account. The King's dynasty, he said, was at all phases of the war "the centre of defeatism and anti-German propaganda."

The King in 'the hope of saving his crown has thrown Italy into chaos, disgrace and misery. The consequences of this shame will involve every Italian. Having lost our honour, we have also lost the countries we conquered during this war, our possessions on the Adriatic, the Ionian Sea, the Aegean Sea, in Southern France and in the Balkans. The army left in the lurch, has fallen to pieces and has been disarmed by its own ally and made the laughter of the civilian population."

Sgr. Mussolini said, "In expectation that our movement will again prove irresistible, we formulate the following principles: To fight again side by side with Germany, Japan and other Allies; Reorganisation of the army with the Militia as its centre; Destruction of traitors especially those who on July 25 rallied to the new Government and thereby went over to the enemy; Destruction of plutocracies and construction of social basis on which to build up the state aided by the work of its citizens."

HOW MUSSOLINI WAS ARRESTED

Describing the events of July 25 which he said were "the most incredible of all adventures in my adventurous life, Sgr. Mussolini said that he had a 20 minutes interview with the King at Villa Savoie and that it was unique in history that a man who for 20 years had served the King with absolute loyalty should be arrested on the threshold of the King's private house. He was forced to climb on to an ambulance on the pretext of saving himself from a conspiracy but he became convinced that the plan as aimed at handing him over to the Allies.

Speaking of his rescue, Mussolini said that it was all over in five minutes and was "a model of organisation and German determination which in time will become a legend."

Continuing Mussolini said "Thinking of nothing but holding on to his crown, he threw Italy into chaos, shame and misery. The misdeeds of the House of Savoy are now well-known in every continent from the Far East to America. Even our enemies, who pushed us into this shameful capitulation, have not disguised their feelings of contempt. England, who nobody, not even the Fuehrer, intended to attack, is now at war because of the promises Mr. Churchill made to save Poland. Henceforth every Italian is open to be suspected by others, even in his private dealings. If the repercussions of these events were confined to a group of people who are personally responsible, one would not mind, but it must be realised that the consequences of this shame will involve every Italian from the first to the last. Having lost our honour, we have also lost the countries which conquered during this war our possessions on the Adriatic, the Ionian Sea, the Aegean Sea, in Southern France and in the Balkans.

REPUBLICAN ITALY IN FUTURE

It was not Fascism which betrayed the Monarchy, but Monarchy which betrayed Fascism. The result of this betrayal is that no one among the Italian people trusts the Monarchy any more Nevertheless the unity of the Italian people has by no means perished in consequence. When Monarchy fails to comply with its historic duties, it loses every reason for existence. The fundamental tendency of Italy is in any case far more republican than Monarchic right down to the period of Italian Unification. This unification was the work of the Republican Party led by Mazzini who fought against Italian monarchies, mostly of foreign origin. The State which we want to rebuild will be national and social in the largest sense of the term. It will be a Fascist State in its original meaning

APPEAL TO ALL ITALIANS

"Blackshirts and their faithful followers all over Italy, I call you again to work and to arms. The enemy's rejoicing at the capitulation of Italy does not mean that he already has victory in his grasp. Our allies Germany and Japan will continue fighting until final victory and will never think of capitulation. Blackshirts, reform your battalion which have accomplished such heroic deeds Young Fascists, join the ranks of divisions which fought heroically at Bir El Gobi. Airmen, you who have done so much to hold off the enemies' attack on our cities and you fascist women you must again take up moral and material support of which our people stand so much in need. Workers and artisans, the State which grows out of this fighting will be your State. It will be defended so that nobody can ever again endanger it. Our courage, our faith and our determination will give Italy a new future chance to live and a place in the Sun. You must make this hope into a rocklike certainty. Long live Italy, long live the New Fascist Republican Party".—Reuter.

ALLAHABAD COURT'S WARRANT ILLEGAL

MUNSHI'S ADDRESS IN HORNIMAN'S CASE

Arguing the revision application on behalf of Mr. B. G. Horniman before the Bombay High Court, Mr. K. M. Munshi said that on September 3, a bailable warrant signed by two Judges of the Allahabad High Court was issued, directing the Police Commissioner of Bombay to arrest Mr. Horniman. This was a most unusual and unwarranted procedure. The warrant was executed on September 13 and on the following day, the Chief Presidency Magistrate made an astounding order directing Mr. Horniman to appear before the Allahabad High Court on September 18, to answer a charge of contempt of Court. The warrant stated that Mr. Horniman was residing at the "Bombay Chronicle" Press. This was not a fact. Mr. Munshi stated:

Though Mr. Horniman contested the validity and legality of the warrant, the C.P.M. held that under Section 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Allahabad High Court had jurisdiction on Mr. Horniman. The C.P.M. also held that the warrant, executed by the Commissioner of Police was good in law. The C.P.M. Mr. Munshi said was wrong in stating that Mr. Horniman had conceded that copies of the "Bombay Sentinel" were circulated in Allahabad.

Mr. Munshi wondered how the C. P. M. could hold that under Section 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Allahabad High Court had jurisdiction in Bombay for contempt of Court proceedings. He submitted that in contempt of Court proceedings, the High Courts were absolutely powerless to enforce the order against persons living outside the territorial jurisdiction of the Court. And the Police Commissioner had no legal power to arrest a person under a warrant issued by a High Court other than the Bombay High Court in a matter of criminal contempt.

CLEAR AND UNAMBIGUOUS

Mr. Munshi then gave a detailed history of the origin composition and jurisdiction of the High Courts. All the High Courts were constituted by Letters Patent and the Clauses of the Letters Patent defined clearly and unambiguously the jurisdiction and purpose of the High Courts

The Allahabad High Court was constituted into a Court of Record and from this, it was clear beyond doubt that it had not inherited all the powers of the King's Bench Division. It had only inherited the powers of the King's Bench subject to statutory provisions.

The King's Bench, Mr. Munshi pointed out, was not only a Court of Record but it was also "custos morum"—a custodian of morality. The King's Bench exercised jurisdiction on all subjects of the realm.

CALCUTTA DECISION CITED

Counsel then quoted a Full Bench decision of the Calcutta High Court, which held that the Indian High Courts had not the powers that the King's Bench enjoyed for punishing for contempt of Court. The Indian High Courts were not "custos morum" but mere Courts of Record and the jurisdiction of the Allahabad High Court in matters of contempt of Court did not extend to places where it had no territorial, jurisdiction "This judgment", Mr. Munshi stated "supports my contention."

After citing other cases Mr. Munshi, summing up said that the Indian High Courts, by virtue of the Letters Patent, had only restricted jurisdiction in contempt of Court proceedings The geographical limits were the ambits of their territorial jurisdiction

C. P. M. ERRED

Mr. Munshi was emphatic in stating that the C. P. M. had erred in holding that by section 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Allahabad High Court had jurisdiction in the case. The Criminal Procedure Code had nothing to do with contempt of Court nor with the machinery for executing the warrant under contempt of Court proceedings. The reliance placed by the C. P. M. on the Criminal Procedure Code had absolutely no substance. Neither would sections 82 and 83 of the C. P Code help the Allahabad High Court None of these sections could apply to contempt of Court proceedings.

The Allahabad High Court. Mr. Munshi said had resorted to a peculiar process to vindicate its authority. In a similar case, one of the Madras Judges had opined that the High Courts should help one another in executing the process of law. "No amount of loyal co-operation on the part of different High Courts", Mr. Munshi said "could help if the law is against them." (Laughter) He added: "It is said that wise Judges should always extend jurisdiction But there should be a limit to it" (Laughter)

NOT WITHIN I. P. C.

Mr Munshi's next contention was that contempt of Court was not an offence within the ambit of the Indian Penal Code.

The Chief Justice asked Mr. B. G. Rao, Government Pleader, who appeared for the Crown what was his attitude in the matter.

Mr. B. G. Rao:—The jurisdiction of the High Courts is governed by the Letters Patent and it is true that the Allahabad High Court is a court of record.

Chief Justice:—That is not disputed. (Laughter).

The Government Pleader further stated that the Letters Patent were subject to legislative powers and hence the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code applied to contempt of Court.

Chief Justice:—But there is no offence in contempt of court under the Indian Penal Code. Do you mean to suggest that this Court can take cognisance of contempt of court in another High Court. In that case you will have to satisfy us that there is contempt of court.

Government Pleader.—I can't take up that stand. (Laughter)

Chief Justice;—I agree with you. (Laughter.)

Chief Justice:—The question is whether we can send Mr. Horniman to Allahabad on this warrant. If you rely on the Criminal Procedure Code, then make out a case?

Government Pleader:—My submission is that this warrant should be treated as a warrant under Sec. 83 of Cr. P Code.

Chief Justice:—Then you will have to show that it is an offence and the offence must be mentioned in the warrant. The warrant says "contempt of court" and that is not an offence under the Indian Penal Code

The Chief Justicee added that Mr. Horniman had not been charged under any Sec. of the I. P. C. His Lordship further stated that he could not disregard the Privy Council decision and the warrant could be justified only if there was an offence under some law.

NOT AN OFFENCE

Mr Petigara, Public Prosecutor, appearing for the Police Commissioner stated that under Letters Patent the High Courts could issue such warrants in due course of law and in exercise of their ordinary criminal jurisdiction.

Chief Justice:—The question is whether you can catch Mr. Horniman in the ordinary course of law. (Laughter). He has been brought before us and you will have to satisfy us that he has committed an offence. I would like to know which law makes this act of Horniman punishable as an offence. Contempt of Court is a very wide and elastic term and it is not made an offence anywhere. It is not an offence in the ordinary sense of the word.

Without calling on Mr. Munshi to reply his Lordship then passed orders in the revision application as already reported.

TETE-A-TETE

WITHOUT COMMENT—

The very idea of trade sanctions alarmed to a considerable degree the Union Government and with unseeming haste it began to import as much of gunny bags, cotton yarn and cotton waste as possible and in some cases ships were requisitioned to carry the abnormally large consignments of these commodities.

A Scotch paper insists that 'the political problem (of India) cannot be simply shelved till the military problem is solved.'

Easy enough. We mean Lord Linlithgow can easily solve it before he leaves India by promulgating an unchallengeable Ordinance declaring the existence of the problem illegal.

Mr. K. P. S. Menon, Agent-General to the Government of India in China, left to-day for Chungking by plane.

—Calcutta report.

Accommodation in Chungking has been found by the Government of India at last.

A correspondent asks "what next, now that the celebrated contempt of court case has been decided in Mr. Horniman's favour."

We hope the next stage will be a universally interesting appeal to the Federal Court as a case of "High Court (Alld.) v. High Court (Bombay)". It has such prolific possibilities.

Opposing the proposition that "The Law Is The Enemy of the Poor", legal luminaries of the Bar and Bench eloquently showed how Law protected 'property and freedom."

Then what were they arguing about against the proposition?

By the way, lest the eager be misled, we must mention that "Bar and Bench" is not a pub.

According to a New Delhi report, Doctor B. R. Ambedkar suggests the organisation of a political Labour Party in order to establish a Labour Government in India.

It is, of course, an attractive suggestion. But we strongly oppose it. We may much more likely lose Dr. Ambedkar than gain his—is it the Premiership?

It is really important. It is, in fact, as important as was the capture of Madagascar itself to the attack on Hitler's 'Festung Europ.'

Palestine Jewish leaders have launched among the Palestine Jewry a campaign for funds for the relief and rescue of oppressed Jews in occupied Europe.

It is undoubtedly a noble and laudable object.

But, by the way, it is not mentioned where they would be rescued. Perhaps that is unnecessary?
